Imprints Cares Receives Grant from The Winston-Salem Foundation for an Evaluator Position

Winston-Salem, NC, August 1, 2016 - Imprints Cares, a local nonprofit organization dedicated to unlocking the full potential of children and their families for school and in life, has been awarded $31,500 by The Winston-Salem Foundation for an evaluator position in support of our funded programs.

Nikki Byers—Executive Director, Imprints Cares—shared, “We are appreciative of The Winston-Salem Foundation’s continued support of Imprints Cares. We continue to grow and reach more children and families thanks to community funders like The Winston-Salem Foundation and community-supportive donors. Onboarding a dedicated evaluator will allow Imprints Cares to further develop our research, methods, and outcomes to reflect our impact and change on the lives of children and families in the community.”

The part-time evaluator position has been posted and folks interested in applying may go to ImprintsCares.org/news-archive. The evaluator position will help Imprints Cares develop the appropriate qualitative and quantitative data methods/instruments, conduct assessments for project planning, monitor program progress, and influence future agency, evidence-based direction.

About Imprints Cares

Imprints Cares is a nonprofit organization with a vision to unlock the full potential of children and their families for success in school and in life. Through its mission to enrich children’s development while supporting their families on the journey of parenthood, Imprints Cares partners with families to provide the tools they need to raise their children to be safe, healthy and ready to learn. Imprints Cares’ philosophy is to nurture children and support parents so they have the ability to change our community for the better. In doing so, these families build thriving generations who are doing their best. Together. We can close the Gap before it begins ...
